The "Where to Go" article scheduled for this issue has been delayed by last-minute editorial difficulties. The article, written by Terry Hall about Vermont's Dead Creek Wildlife Management Area, will appear in the May/June 1997 Bird Observer. Area birders will be enticed by Dead Creek's potential for birds such as Ross' and Barnacle goose, Gyrfalcon, Curlew Sandpiper, and Black Tern, and we apologize for the delay in presenting Terry's article.
