

- Mrs. Thos. C. Luellan from - 20 Orchard Terrace, Washington, Pa.
to - 50 Orchard Terrace, Washington, Pa.
- Dr. C. Brooke Worth from - The Rockefeller Foundation, International Health Division, 49 W. 49th St., N. Y. 20, N. Y.
to - The Rockefeller Foundation, No. 3 Ali Asker Rd., Bangalore 1, Mysore, India
- Pvt. Robt. Leo Smith from - R. D. #1, Reynoldsville, Pa.
to - Armed Services Y.M.C.A., City Square, Charlestown 29, Mass.

Pvt. Smith writes:

"It may be quite a surprise to learn that I have been in the Army since the 28th of September. However, all is not as bad as it may seem. I took 6 weeks of basic training at Fort Dix, N. J. and then was assigned to the U.S. Army Veterinary Corps as a Meat and Milk Inspector. At present I am stationed at the Boston Army Base and living out on subsistence. I have a room at the above address."

MORE FROM THE NORTH

Mr. Maurice G. Street, whose note on banding in Saskatchewan appeared in a recent issue of the News has sent in more about his banding. He writes:

"Have not as yet received word as to where the White-throated Sparrow was banded. I sent in the return card with several others when I reported the Hawks and Owls to the Service. So I may receive word most anytime.

"Have just been advised by the Fish & Wildlife Service that two of the Hawks and Owls that I banded last summer have been shot. The Great Horned Owl was killed about 12 miles from the nest where banded.

"Of 20 Red-tails, banded as nestlings since 1945, I have had 7 recoveries. These recoveries have been from Saskatchewan and the States of Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas. This is a very high percentage of returns and is evidence that a great slaughter of our beneficial Hawks, from guns in the hands of thoughtless hunters or others that are ignorant as to the good that these hawks do, is going on. In addition to recoveries of my banded Red-tails, Billy Matthews, now also banding at Nipawin (received his permit last May) banded a single Red-tail, and this one was shot in southern Manitoba. That makes 8 of 21."

His list of birds banded in 1950 follows:

2 Red-tailed Hawks	2 Ovenbird Warblers
3 Great Horned Owls	2 Water-thrush Warblers
3 Yellow-shafted Flicker	1 Connecticut Warbler
1 Sapsucker, Yellow-bellied	3 Mourning Warblers
2 Hairy Woodpecker	3 Wilson's Warblers
2 Downy Woodpecker	3 Baltimore Orioles
1 Eastern Kingbird	3 Cowbirds
1 Yellow-bellied Flycatcher	3 Rose-breasted Grosbeaks
4 Least Flycatcher	10 Evening Grosbeaks
1 Blue Jay	3 Pine Grosbeaks
8 Black-capped Chickadee	13 Purple Finch
5 House Wren	9 Hoary Redpolls
5 Catbirds	296 Common Redpolls
24 Eastern Robins	6 Pine Siskins
3 Hermit Thrush	1 Goldfinch
13 Olive-backed Thrush	36 Red Crossbills
7 Gray-cheeked Thrush	172 Slate-colored Juncos
1 Ruby-crowned Kinglet	8 Tree Sparrows
1 Cedar Waxwing	12 Chipping Sparrows
5 White-rumped Shrike	2 Clay-colored Sparrows
7 Tennessee Warbler	43 Harris's Sparrows
1 Orange-crowned Warbler	14 Gambel's Sparrows
1 Magnolia Warbler	111 White-throated Sparrows
1 Cape May Warbler	11 Fox Sparrows
32 Myrtle Warbler	21 Lincoln's Sparrows
1 Black-poll Warbler	1 Swamp Sparrow
2 Palm Warbler	6 Song Sparrows

932 individuals - 54 species

A CROW RECOVERY

Treasurer Wood sent in the following item:

"A crow banded when a nestling on May 29, 1949 near Mapleton, Maine, by Mr. Carlin Bartlett was shot 600 miles away on December 11, 1950 near Gettysburg, Penna., by Mr. George F. Weaver. Mr. Bartlett, who has banded 21 crows with private bands, has received only this one recovery."