

BANDING STATION ESTABLISHED AT WASHINGTON CROSSING PARK

Dr. Paul H. Fluck, Lambertville, New Jersey, in a recent letter tells of his success in getting permission from the Park Commission in charge of Washington Crossing Park, three miles south of New Hope, Pennsylvania, to conduct a banding station in the Park. Bands will be issued to the Park, and work will be carried out under the supervision of Dr. Fluck. Your Editor and wife had the pleasure of visiting the site with Dr. Fluck, and they agree that the location is an excellent one.

Dr. Fluck writes, "On May 18th a picnic of bird banders formally dedicated the new banding station. Dr. and Mrs. Harold B. Wood, Jeff, Minnie, and Pat Gill, Howard Drinkwater and family, W. A. Jarvis and family, Mrs. Pauline Buckingham, Mr. Nathaniel Wyckoff, and a number of others were there. The picnic was held on the site of the new banding station to the tune of a quartet of Cerulean Warblers. ....ten minutes after we set up our first house trap, a Cerulean Warbler flew in. Naturally, the door wasn't working!"

AN INVITATION

The following invitation is extended by Mr. E. Alexander Bergstrom, Editor of BIRD-BANDING:

"The fall field meeting of the Northeastern Bird-Banding Association will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Alexander Bergstrom, 37 Old Brook Road, West Hartford, Conn., on Sunday, September 21, starting at 10 a.m. In addition to a backyard banding station with recent plantings for birds, we hope to have an extensive display of banding traps (additional exhibits will be welcome). A number of members of the Eastern Bird-Banding Association attended the last Connecticut field meeting (at Berlin in 1950), and we hope for more this year as the location is easily reached from either Boston or New York over good highways.
