More than 150 members and guests registered for EBBA's 40th Annual meeting, which was held on April 19, 20 and 21 at East Stroudsburg State College, East Stroudsburg, Pa. East Stroudsburg State College, our hosts, provided meeting places, class rooms for the Workshop sessions, and other accomodations that made this one of the most successful meetings in EBBA's history. Dr. William N. Martin, Chairman of the Local Arrangements Committee, and students and other college personnel were indefatigable in catering to our needs and comfort. Much of the success of the meeting was due to their careful preparations and efficient arrangements.

Headquarters for the meeting was the Brookview Manor, Canadensis, Pa., where many members stayed and where Friday arrivals registered. The EBBA council meeting was held there as well.

PAPER SESSION The Saturday morning paper session was held in the Auditorium of the Science Department, East Stroudsbury State College. President Merrill Wood called upon Raymond Middleton to introduce our host. Mr. Middleton introduced Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, Pres. ident of the College, who gave EBBA a warm welcome. President Wood responded for EBBA.

The first paper, "Population Studies of Hutcheson Forest," was presented by Dr. Jeff Swinebroad. Hutcheson Forest, he reminded those of his audience, used to be known as Mettler's Woods -- one of the few spots of its kind which has been virtually untouched by modern civilization. He described the method of setting up nets (noting that he used a new method this year) in order to get as true an estimate as possible of the number and species of birds in the area.

Mrs. Mabel Gillespie's paper on "The Travels of Common Terns," illus. trated with maps, followed. (This paper will be published in the next issue of EBBA News.)

"The Story behind a Bracelet of Bands" was the title chosen for his paper by G. Hapgood Parks. In it he described how he and Mrs. Parks had journeyed to the Gaspé Peninsula to find and talk with Thomas Brousseaud, a man who had shot and collected the bands of scores of Evening Grosbeaks. Mr. Brousseaud had carefully sent in reports of these recovered bands to the banding office. Mr. Parks brought out the fact that Brousseaud though reports of band numbers on Evening Grosbeaks were desired and that the best way to get to read the band numbers was to shoot the birds. (Mr. Parks' paper will be published in a forthcoming issue of Bird-Banding.)

Mrs. Eleanor Dater, Chairman of the EBBA Net Committee, then outlined difficulties she had had with U. S. Customs authorities in getting mist

May-June 1963 nets from Japan into this country. Mrs. Dater noted that there was no nets from duty on mist nets and that therefore the price to members had been reduced.

EBBA Editor Frank P. Frazier told of the increase in circulation, and the increase in the number of pages of EBBA News during the past seven the increases of his editorship. He noted that there had been some 70 articles years and small contributed by members during the previous year and paid tribute to the assistance given by Co-Editor Frank P. Frazier, Jr. He particularly stressed Dorothy Bordner's delightful spot drawings and particular which give a unique flair to our publication's pages.

Allen Davall, Banding Office chief, in his talk urged banders to be more careful in the preparation of their reports. He stated that the banding office was going to be more severe in its attitude towards the reports required. Mr. Duvall also announced that he was planning to issue some bands pre-opened, ready to put on birds' legs, and that bands in sizes of 3 and up would be made of a tougher alloy than at present.

BUSINESS MEETING

The annual business meeting was held after members had lunched in the college cafeteria. After being called to order by President Merrill Wood, the minutes of the Council Meeting were read and approved, as was the report of the Treasurer.

Arthur Fast reported on EBBA's incorporation in the State of New Jersey. He read the Certificate of Incorporation and presented the corrected By-Laws to the membership. The new By-Laws were then voted upon and adopted. (Both the Certificate of Incorporation and the new By-Laws are printed on pages 110-116 of this issue.)

The report of the Nominating Committee was then presented by its chairman, Raymond J. Middleton. The following Officers and Councillors were elected as presented:
