ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

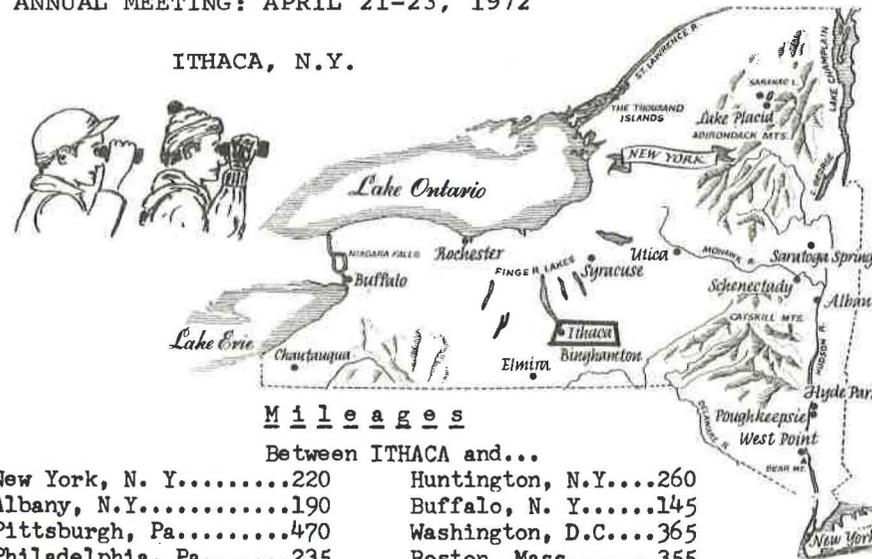

My most sincere appreciation is extended to Stanley Dickerson who thoughtfully deposited the important collection of bird-banding records forming the basis of this paper in the New Jersey State Museum where they will be preserved and made available to anyone wishing to utilize them. In addition, a special note of thanks is due the many banders and non-banders who reported the recoveries to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service. Larry Hood aided the preparation of this paper significantly by checking the accuracy of certain records, and by decoding certain codes not included in the banding manual. Finally, both the compiler and the editor of Ebba News wish to extend our most sincere appreciation to Miss Diane Raider of the New Jersey State Museum who spent many hours collating the mass of records and typing the manuscript in camera-ready form. Without her valuable assistance this paper would not have appeared nearly as promptly as it has.
