While searching for bird records in “Birds Around the State: January-December 1997” published in the July 1999 issue of The Mississippi Kite, Volume 29 (1):10-47, I realized that records for the following eight species were accidentally deleted when the Mississippi Kite editor was formatting the article for publication. They were replaced by records of Fox Sparrow through White-crowned Sparrow which appear twice in the article. Records for the eight missing species are reproduced below verbatim as they were originally intended to appear. They should be inserted on page 44 after the first entry for White-crowned Sparrow at the top of the page and before Orchard Oriole. Fox Sparrow through the second White-crowned Sparrow entry on page 44 should be deleted. Observers for records of the eight missing species are included below for ease of reference.
