JUST OFF THE PRESS

BIRDS OF THE WEST, 4th edition, by Ernest S. Booth

- 65 full page color plates—nearly 500 pages of information about western birds
- Analytical "keys" to all birds—to make identification fast and sure
- "Picture method" may be used, too
- Color plates together in the center—no need to hunt for the color plate you want!
- This is the old and time-proved bird guide first published in 1948, now completely rewritten
- Hawaii, Alaska and all western Canada included

Also—BIRDS OF THE EAST, by Ernest S. Booth

Just like BIRDS OF THE WEST, but with 48 full page color plates, and every bird in color!

Birds of the East

by ERNEST S. BOOTH

The only field guide for the East that contains the new bird names adopted by the AOU in 1957. It is also the only one-volume bird guide with every bird in color. It contains analytical keys in addition to complete descriptions. Students will identify twice as many birds in a given time by using this book as with any other. This has been proved by actual class experiments. There are 48 full pages of color. 386 pages; $7.95. Postpaid.

Birds of the West

by ERNEST S. BOOTH

This is the ideal bird guide for the west, with 65 full page color plates showing every bird in color for the first time for a western bird guide. It contains analytical keys to all birds, making identification of birds in the field more accurate. Users will identify twice as many birds in a given time by using this book as with any other. Fourth edition, 1971, 400 pages, 65 pages in full color, $7.95. Postpaid.

* * * * *

Two popular childrens' bird guides—the only childrens' guides to birds ever written; they are ideal for interesting children in bird study as a hobby; and ideal for classroom use and for summer camps. There are 43 pages of color in each book.

Eastern Bird Guide for Youth

by ERNEST S. BOOTH

This is the only bird guide written just for youth, ages 5 to 14. It contains 175 birds in full color with 43 pages of color. Large page size, 7 x 10 inches, hard covers, concise descriptions of birds. Ideal for lower and upper grades, and for junior high school. $3.95. Postpaid.

Western Bird Guide for Youth

by ERNEST S. BOOTH

This is the only bird guide written just for youth, ages 5 to 14. It contains 175 birds in full color with 43 pages of color. Large page size, 7 x 10 inches, hard covers, concise descriptions of birds. Ideal for lower and upper grades, and junior high school. $3.95. Postpaid.

RECORD BOOKS—Ideal for the Yearly List and for the Life List.

The Field Record comes in 3 editions, one for the eastern half of the country, one for the northern part of the West and one for the southern part of the West.

The Life List is also ideal for the yearly list, especially if you travel a lot, for it includes all the names of birds in North America, but has only half as much space for notes as do the Field Records.

Life List for Birds, Ernest S. Booth. This is a special record book for keeping the life list, or for use as a yearly list, for it contains all the names of birds in the AOU area, plus space for notes on each bird. Ideal for class project. $1.00 paper. Postpaid.

Field Record for Birds, Ernest S. Booth. A special record booklet for yearly list. Besides the name of each bird in your area, there are 6 columns for notes on migration, nesting, food, habitats, etc. $1.00, paper. Postpaid.
