

Old
Series,
Vol. LIX

CONTINUATION OF THE
BULLETIN OF THE NUTTALL ORNITHOLOGICAL CLUB

New
Series,
Vol. LI

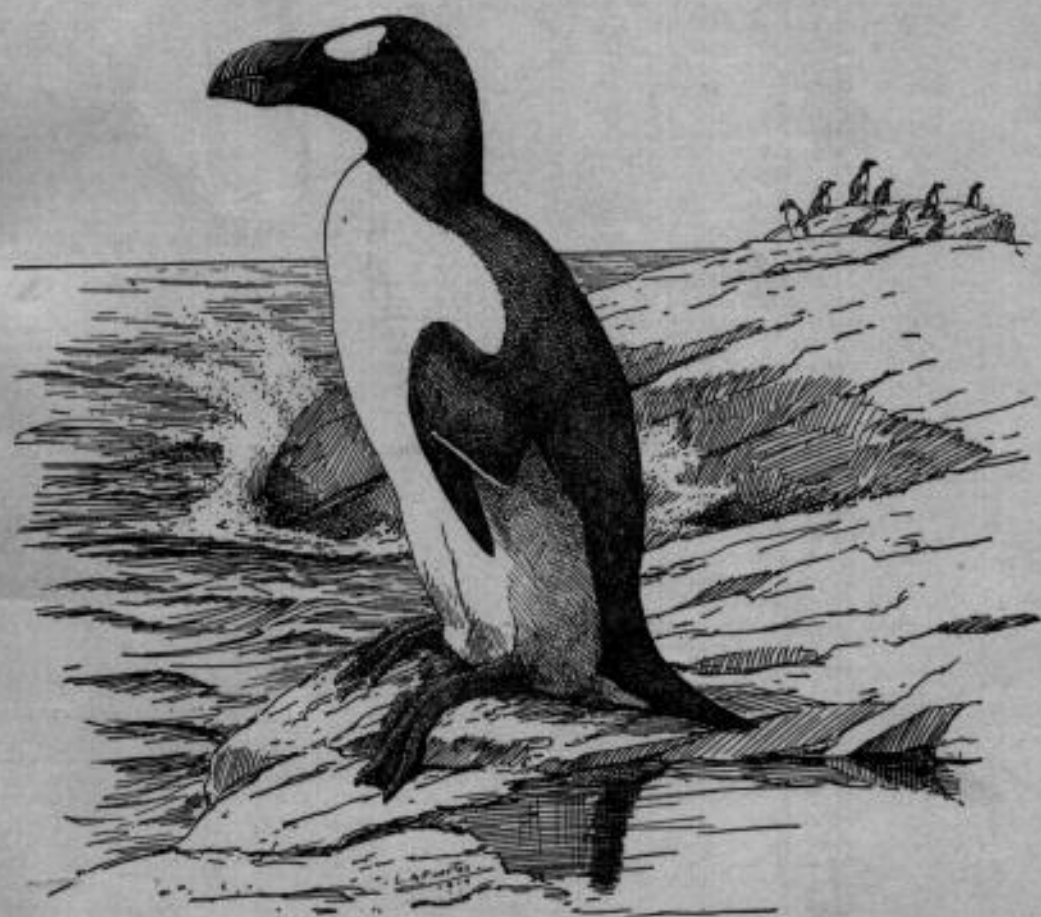

The Auk

A Quarterly Journal of Ornithology

Vol. LI

JULY, 1934

No. 3

PUBLISHED BY

The American Ornithologists' Union

LANCASTER, PA.

Entered as second-class mail matter in the Post Office at Lancaster, Pa.

CONTENTS.

BREEDING HABITS OF BONAPARTE'S GULL. By Arthur C. Twomey . (Plate XIII)	291
THE EARLIEST UNPUBLISHED DRAWINGS OF THE FLEXIBILITY OF THE UPPER MANDIBLE OF THE WOODCOCK'S BILL. By Henry Mousley	297
MIGRATION AND SOLAR CYCLES. By Leonard W. Wing	302
THE SOCIAL ORDER IN FLOCKS OF THE COMMON CHICKEN AND THE PIGEON. By Ralph H. Masure and W. C. Allee	306
TWENTY-TWO YEARS OF BANDING MIGRATORY WILD FOWL AT AVERY ISLAND, LOUISIANA. By E. A. McIlhenny	328
SPECIMENS OF THE PHILIPPINE MONKEY-EATING EAGLE (Pithecophaga jefferyi). By M. E. McClellan Davidson	338
SOME ADDITIONAL AUDUBON COPPER-PLATES. By Phoebe Knappen	343
THE BIRDS OF ANTIGUA. By Stuart T. Danforth	350
A NEW SPECIES OF RAIL FROM PARAGUAY. By H. B. Conover	365
GENERAL NOTES.—Occurrence of Wilson's Petrel in Franklin Co., N. Y., 367; King Eider in Wisconsin, 367; A Late Flock of Swans at Perry Point, Md., 367; Late Date for the Whistling Swan in Washington, 368; An Unusual Flock of Waterfowl at Harrisburg, Pa., 368; American Egrets Nesting in New Jersey, 368; American Egret at Bridgewater, Mass., in Spring, 369; Yellow-crowned Night Heron in Rhode Island, 369; The Swallow-tailed Kite in South Carolina, 369; The Golden Eagle in West Virginia, 370; Golden Eagle in North Louisiana, 370; Notes on the Food Habits of the Golden Eagle, 371; The Status of the Duck Hawk in the Southeast, 371; Sandpiper Cripples, 373; The Black-necked Stilt in South Carolina, 374; The Red Phalarope off South Carolina, 374; Glaucous and Iceland Gulls at Brigantine Beach, N. J., 374; Iceland Gull in Virginia, 375; Kumlien's Gull at Brigantine, N. J., 375; Possible Extension of Regular Range of the Great Black-backed Gull, 376; Brünnich's Murre in Brooklyn, N. Y., 376; Note on the Guadeloupe Macaw, 377; Panyptila cayenensis nesting in a House, 377; An Unusual Red-headed Woodpecker Accident, 379; Scissor-tailed Flycatcher in Massachusetts, 379; Say's Phoebe in Western Montana, 379; Status of the Wood Pewee in Middle Florida, 380; Breeding of the Prairie Horned Lark, at Lexington, Va., 380; Singing of the Tree Swallow in New Hampshire, 380; The Fish Crow in the Valley of Virginia, 381; Mockingbird in Summer and Winter in Southwestern Pennsylvania, 382; The Starling and Mountain Bluebird in Kansas, 382; Wilson's Warbler in Georgia, 383; Iris Color in the Boat-tailed Grackle, 383; Nesting of Boat-tailed Grackle and Blue-winged Teal in Delaware, 384; Purple Grackle Wintering at Newport, R. I., 384; Further Occurrence of the Bronzed Grackle in Northwestern Montana, 384; Cowbird Notes from Tennessee, 384; A Summary of Cowbird Host Species in Ohio, 385; Juvenal Eastern Evening Grosbeaks at Sault St. Marie, Michigan, 386; Western Henslow's Sparrow Wintering in Indiana, 388; Extension of Breeding Range of the Cape Sable Seaside Sparrow, 389; Notes on the Nesting of the Slate-colored Junco, 389; Some 1933 Records from Berkshire County, Massachusetts, 390; Notes from Cheshire Co. and Coastal New Hampshire, 391; Recent Records from the Niagara Frontier, New York, 392; Additional Notes on Birds of Princess Anne Co., Virginia, 393; Northern and Southern Birds Meeting on a West Virginia Mountain, 394; 1933 Notes from Chapel Hill, N. C., 396; Notes from Eastern Long Island, 397; Additional Notes on the Wintering Birds of Chenier au Tigre, Louisiana, 398; Florida Bird Notes, 400; Some Recent Ohio Records, 401; Notes from the Chicago District, 402; Notes from Central Illinois, 403; Type Localities of Townsend's "Columbia River" Birds, 403; Letters Concerning Wallace, Newton and Tristram, 404.
RECENT LITERATURE.—Peterson's 'Field Guide to the Birds,' 407; Brand's 'Songs of Wild Birds,' 408; Stuart Baker's 'Nidification of Birds of the Indian Empire,' 410; The Birds of Nippon, 410; Weygandt's 'The White Hills,' 410; Priest's 'Birds of Southern Rhodesia,' 411; Brooks and Wetmore on North American Birds, 411; DeSchaunsee on 'Birds from Siam and the Southern Shan States,' 411; Roberts on the Birds of Trinidad, 412; Swarth on the Birds of Nunivak Island, Alaska, 412; Murphy on Birds and Hurricanes, 413; Kitchin's 'List of the Birds of Washington,' 414; Alvarez on the Birds of Uruguay, 414; Eaton on the Migratory Movements of Herring Gulls, 414; Biological Survey Duck Maps, 415; Teaching Units of the Emergency Conservation Committee, 415; Russian Economic Ornithology, 416; Shorter Publications, 417; The Ornithological Journals, 419.
CORRESPONDENCE.—Semi-Centennial Greetings, 428; Alleged Excessive Collecting of Birds by the Whitney South Sea Expedition, 428.
OBITUARIES.—Edward William Nelson, 431; Charles Wendell Townsend, 432; Col. Franklin Brandreth, 432.
NOTES AND NEWS.—Fifty-second Stated Meeting of the A. O. U., 434; Fourth Annual Meeting of the Virginia Society of Ornithology, 434; Ninth Annual Meeting of the Cooper Ornithological Club, 435; Protection of Hawks and Herons in New York, 435; Société d'Etudes Ornithologiques, 435; Dr. Chapman's Seventieth Birthday, 435; The Deane Collection, 436; The Second Volume of Peters' 'Check-List of Birds of the World,' 437.	