THE AUK

A Quarterly Journal of Ornithology

ORGAN OF THE AMERICAN ORNITHOLOGISTS' UNION

For publication in 'The Auk,' articles or notes must present material that is of significance to ornithologists and that has not been published elsewhere. All manuscripts should be typewritten, double spaced, with wide margins. Titles should be brief. Terminal bibliographies are used as a rule for long articles. Only works actually cited in the text are to be included in these bibliographies; works not so cited will be deleted by the editors. Where fewer than five references to literature are made, they may be inserted in parentheses in the text. References in manuscript for 'General Notes' should be in the text. Consult issues of 'The Auk' since January, 1949, for style of citation. Long articles should be summarized briefly. Footnotes, Roman numerals, and ruled tables are to be avoided. Acknowledgments belong in the text. Line drawings must be in India ink on white paper or drawing board; usually these should be planned for at least one-half reduction when printed. Thus, details and lettering must be correspondingly large. Legends must be brief. Photographs must be hard, glossy prints of good contrast. Common and scientific names of North American birds should follow the A.O.U. Check-List (Fifth Edition) except in taxonomic papers giving critical discussions and in justified special cases.

Proofs of all articles and notes will be sent to authors. Reprints from articles, 'General Notes,' and 'Correspondence' are to be paid for by the author. These must be ordered from the Editor on the blanks sent with the proof and must be returned with the proof. Printed covers can be furnished at additional cost.

All articles and notes submitted for publication and all books and publications intended for review should be sent to the Editor.

SAMUEL A. GRIMES

Florida Bird Student and Photographer

Says:

"I look forward eagerly to the arrival of each issue of Audubon Field Notes. I turn to the Florida report first, of course, to see who's seen what in my own home state. Then I go over the reports from the South Atlantic Division, since that area is in our line of flight, so to speak, and it's interesting to know what may be coming our way. The rest of the publication I take leisurely, and each issue affords me a very pleasant evening's reading."

THE COMPARATIVE BIOLOGY OF THE MEADOWLARKS (STURNELLA) IN WISCONSIN

by Wesley C. Lanyon of the American Museum of Natural History

The first in a new series of publications by the Nuttall Ornithological Club of Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Dr. Lanyon's study examines the several factors of habitat, voice, behavior, and morphology which maintain Sturnella magna and neglecta as separate species. Many interesting features of the New World family, Icteridae, are discussed. The work represents an important study in the natural history of sibling species and as such is a significant contribution to our understanding of evolution.

Orders should be addressed to the Mass. Audubon Society, 155 Newbury St., Boston, Mass. 67 pp. plus 16 plates. Cloth bound, $2.00; paper bound, $1.50.
