

Authentic Recordings of BIRD VOICES

From Cornell University's Library of Natural Sounds. Produced by P. P. Kellogg and A. A. Allen

SONGBIRDS OF AMERICA: in color, sound, and story. In this intriguing Bookalbum, high-fidelity recordings of the songs of 24 species of familiar birds taken in the wild are complemented by full-color photographs and useful information on their habits. 10-inch, vinylite record, 33 1/3 rpm, text, full-color photographs, spiral-bound. $4.95

AMERICAN BIRD SONGS, Volume One. The Robin, Catbird, Oriole, and Mockingbird are some of the familiar birds heard on this popular record, now released in a beautiful second issue. The Biologist termed the earlier album "The first great collection of our American bird songs" 12-inch, vinylite record, 33 1/3 rpm. $7.75

AMERICAN BIRD SONGS, Volume Two. The beauty and fidelity of the 51 bird voices heard on this disk are a tribute to the knowledge, patience, and skill of Drs. Kellogg and Allen. This 33 1/3 rpm record duplicates in every respect the earlier 78 rpm album. 12-inch, vinylite record, 33 1/3 rpm. $7.75

Additional information on these and seven other records of wildlife voices may be obtained by writing to:

THE AUK

A Quarterly Journal of Ornithology

ORGAN OF THE AMERICAN ORNITHOLOGISTS' UNION

For publication in 'The Auk,' articles or notes must present material that is of significance to ornithologists and that has not been published elsewhere. All manuscripts should be typewritten, double spaced, with wide margins. Titles should be brief. Terminal bibliographies are used as a rule for long articles. Only works actually cited in the text are to be included in these bibliographies; works not so cited will be deleted by the editors. Where fewer than five references to literature are made, they may be inserted in parentheses in the text. References in manuscript for 'General Notes' should be in the text. Consult issues of 'The Auk' since January, 1949, for style of citation. Long articles should be summarized briefly. Footnotes, Roman numerals, and ruled tables are to be avoided. Acknowledgments belong in the text. Line drawings must be in India ink on white paper or drawing board; usually these should be planned for at least one-half reduction when printed. Thus, details and lettering must be correspondingly large. Legends must be brief. Photographs must be hard, glossy prints of good contrast. Common and scientific names of North American birds should follow the A.O.U. Check-List (Fifth Edition), except in taxonomic papers giving critical discussions and in justified special cases.

Proofs of all articles and notes will be sent to authors. Reprints from articles, 'General Notes,' and 'Correspondence' are to be paid for by the author. These must be ordered from the Editor on the blanks sent with the proof and must be returned with the proof. Printed covers can be furnished at additional cost.

All articles and notes submitted for publication and all books and publications intended for review should be sent to the Editor.

All persons interested in ornithology are invited to join the American Ornithologists' Union. Application may be made to the Treasurer; dues for Members are $4.00 per year. 'The Auk' is sent without charge to all classes of members not in arrears for dues.

Send changes of address, claims for undelivered or defective copies of 'The Auk,' and requests for information relative to advertising, subscriptions, back numbers of 'The Auk,' as well as for other publications of the Union, to the Treasurer.

Says:

Audubon Field Notes contains a vast storehouse of information on the distribution and population dynamics of birds of the United States. The amateur and professional have both contributed to the overall picture of the changing patterns of our avifauna. From this magazine researchers assemble data to show population trends and to form the foundation for sound conservation policies. Each issue adds a new chapter to this dynamic and fascinating story.
