Published by THE AMERICAN ORNITHOLOGISTS' UNION, THE BRITISH ORNITHOLOGISTS' UNION, and THE ROYAL AUSTRALASIAN ORNITHOLOGISTS UNION

Beginning in 1983 (Auk 100, Ibis 125) the AOU and BOU combined their Recent Literature sections, to publish a single supplement of ornithological literature to which members of both unions contribute. The RAOU joined this partnership in 1987 (Emu 87). The AOU covers journals published in the Americas and the Philippines. The BOU covers journals published in Europe, Africa, and mainland Asia. The RAOU covers journals published in Australasia and other island nations of the Pacific. More than 150 volunteers scan about 650 titles and contribute abstracts regularly. Authors' addresses are included, if the journal lists them, to facilitate communication between readers and authors.

Recent Ornithological Literature strives for comprehensive coverage of the world's periodical literature of interest to persons studying wild birds. Readers are encouraged to consult the "List of Journals Scanned" published annually in the fourth supplement and to make recommendations for increasing journal coverage.

NEW JOURNALS

Bulletin of the Institute of Ornithology, Kyung Hee University. Seoul 131, Korea. Editor: P.-O. Won. Vol. 1, June 1986, 86 pp. No price given. Some articles in Korean with English summaries, some in English.—The 7 papers (listed below) from vol. 1 cover conservation, ecology, breeding biology, and distribution of Korean (6) and Philippine (1) birds.—M.D.F.U.

Museo Damaso Antonio Larrañaga: serie de divulgacion. Intendencia municipal de Montevideo, Rambla República de Chile 4215 Buceo, Montevideo, Uruguay. No. 1, 1985. Spanish.—No information on price or publication schedule. See Cuello (Taxonomy, systematics, and faunistics—Neotropics) below.—B.G.B.

A RENAMED JOURNAL

Oriolus. (Formerly Wielewaal.)—The numbering sequence of the volumes is retained. Effective with vol. 52 (1986). Articles in Dutch with English summaries; 9 listed below on behavior, ecology, migration, distribution, and techniques.—F.E.L.

BEHAVIOR AND VOCALIZATIONS

AMOS, S. H. 1985. Breeding the Yellow Cardinal Gubernatrix cristata at the National Aquarium in Baltimore. Avicult. Mag. 91: 199–203. (M. Harvey, Windsor Forest Stud., Mill Ride, Ascot SL5 8LT, UK.)

ANDERSON, M. E., & R. N. CONNER. 1985. Northern Cardinal song in three forest habitats in eastern Texas. Wilson Bull. 97: 436–449. (Math/Sci. Div., Bee Co. Coll., Beeville, TX 78102 USA.)—Differences in song frequency among C. cardinalis populations enhance long-distance communication.—F.E.L.

BARNARD, P., & R. SIMMONS. 1986. The functions of leg-lowering in territorial predatory birds. Ostrich 57: 107–109. (Dept. Zool., Univ. Witwatersrand, Johannesburg 2001, S. Africa.)—Suggests leg-lowering ritualized display.—R.A.E.

BENUSSI, E., & F. PERCO. 1984. [Ecoethological observations on the Goshawk, Accipiter g. gentilis, in the Triestine Karst.] Gli Uccelli d'Italia 9: 3–25. (v. Ginnastica 73, I-34142 Trieste, Italy.) (Italian, English summary.)

BERMAN, S. L. 1985. Notes on the behaviour of the Speckled Mousebird Colius striatus. Avicult. Mag. 91: 231–235. (Dept. Biol., Coll. Holy Cross, Worcester, MA 01610 USA.)—Describes use of water, food sharing, courtship, nesting, agonistic behavior, and digit configurations of captive birds.—A.J.I.

BERULDSEN, G. R. 1986. Observations on the Sooty Owl Tyto tenebricosa in south-east Queensland. Australian Bird Watcher 11: 230–236. (P.O. Box 387, Kenmore, Qld. 4069, Australia.)—Describes calls.—H.A.F.

BOYCE, D. A., JR. 1985. Merlin and the behavior of wintering shorebirds. Raptor Res. 19: 94–96. (Dept. Zool., 574 WIDB, Brigham Young Univ., Provo, UT 84602 USA.)—Antipredatory strategies of individuals and flocks.—J.A.S.

BRAZA, F., F. ALVAREZ, & R. PINTOS. 1985. [Gregariousness of the Red-legged Partridge (Alectoris rufa) in Doñana, Spain.] Ardeola 32: 39–47. (Est. Biol. Doñana, Apdo. 1056, E-41080 Seville, Spain.) (Spanish, English summary.)

BRAZIL, M. 1983. A case of unusual aggression by a Whooper Swan. Tori 32: 155. (Wild Bird Soc. Japan, Aoyama Flower Bldg., 1-1-4 Shibuya, Shibuya-ku, Tokyo 150, Japan.)—C. cygnus kills half-grown Anas penelope.—D.W.M.

BROOKE, M. DE L. 1985. Skua predation on penguin eggs: the influence of egg quality and location. Wilson Bull. 97: 366–368. (EGI, Dept. Zool., S. Parks Rd., Oxford OX1 3PS, UK.)—Experiments at Marion Island indicate Catharacta antarctica take Eudyptes chrysophrys eggs placed in nests more rapidly than eggs outside nests, and intact eggs preferred over broken eggs.—F.E.L.

BROWN, R. J., & M. N. BROWN. 1986. Nest-building behaviour of the Yellow-rumped Thornbill Acanthiza chrysorrhoa. Australian Bird Watcher 11: 218–223. (RMB 253, Manjimup, WA 6258, Australia.)—Helpers contribute in this cooperative species, which also builds false nests.—H.A.F.

CAMERINO, M., & R. NOS. 1984. [The aggressive and amicable behavior of a group of 9 parrot species, in captivity.] Pp. 195–207 in Processus d'acquisition précoce. Les communications (A. de Haro & X. Espadaler, Eds.). Barcelona, Pub. Univ. Autónoma. (Mus. Zool., Apdo. 593, E-08080 Barcelona, Spain.) (French, English summary.)

Edward Grey Institute of Field Ornithology,
South Parks Road, Oxford OX1 3PS, UK

Published by THE AMERICAN ORNITHOLOGISTS' UNION, THE BRITISH ORNITHOLOGISTS' UNION, and THE ROYAL AUSTRALASIAN ORNITHOLOGISTS UNION

Beginning in 1983 (Auk 100, Ibis 125) the AOU and BOU combined their Recent Literature sections, to publish a single supplement of ornithological literature to which members of both unions contribute. The RAOU joined this partnership in 1987 (Emu 87). The AOU covers journals published in the Americas and the Philippines. The BOU covers journals published in Europe, Africa, and mainland Asia. The RAOU covers journals published in Australasia and other island nations of the Pacific. More than 150 volunteers scan about 650 titles and contribute abstracts regularly. Authors' addresses are included, if the journal lists them, to facilitate communication between readers and authors.

Recent Ornithological Literature strives for comprehensive coverage of the world's periodical literature of interest to persons studying wild birds. Readers are encouraged to consult the "List of Journals Scanned" published annually in the fourth supplement and to make recommendations for increasing journal coverage.
