Recent Ornithological Literature (ROL) is a quarterly compilation of abstracts from the worldwide scientific literature on birds. The ROL deals chiefly with periodicals, but also announces new and renamed journals and provides abstracts of special publications, reports, and book chapters. The abstracts are prepared by scientists who voluntarily scan journals for ornithological articles, generally according to the geographic coverage of the three societies. Abstractors in the AOU mostly cover journals in the Americas and the Philippines; those in the BOU mostly cover journals published in Europe, Africa, and mainland Asia; and RAOU volunteers cover journals published in Australasia, Japan, and other island nations of the Pacific.

ROL users should search in every likely category for relevant articles. The categorization procedure is often subjective and each citation is assigned to only one category, regardless of how many topics are covered.

Since the ROL strives for global and comprehensive reporting, we encourage users to recommend to their regional editors periodicals that ought to be included. Authors, editors, or publishers whose articles or journals are not covered by ROL should send reprints, abstracts, or journal issues to the regional editor responsible for coverage of the geographical area in which the journal is published, or to the Coordinating Editor.

We need and welcome additional abstractors. If you would like to help, please contact your regional editor to learn which journals lack coverage and to receive instructions for preparing abstracts.

Notice: We will henceforth publish abstracts of doctoral dissertations, going back to those completed since January 1, 1995. Authors who wish to be included should prepare an entry in ROL style and send it to one of the regional editors. Submittal via e-mail or on diskette (WP or ASCII) with hard copy preferred. Entries should include: author's name, year of completion, title, "Ph.D. dissert.", university name and location, (author's postal and e-mail addresses), and a 1-2 sentence abstract, not a full-dress abstract.

NEW JOURNALS

BOLETÍN CHILENO DE ORNITOLOGÍA. Published by the Unión de Ornitólogos de Chile. Began in 1994. Editor: Juan Carlos Torres-Mura, Sección Zoología, Museo Nacional de Historia Natural, Casilla 787, Santiago, Chile.—Concentrates on the biology, natural history, ecology, and conservation of Neotropical birds, with special emphasis on Chilean species. In Spanish; papers in English will also be considered.—R.T.C.

RESTORATION ECOLOGY. Journal of the Society of Ecological Restoration. Four issues per volume (year).

Contact SER, Univ. Wisconsin, Madison Arboretum, 1207 Seminole Hwy., Madison, WI 53711, USA.—P.J.D.

TÚZOK. Quarterly journal of Hungarian Ornithological and Nature Conservation Society (MME). Began in 1996. Annual subscription for members of MME is 2200 HUF (~US$22) and non-members 4000 HUF (~US$40). Editor: E. Schmidt, Hungarian Ornithol. Nat. Conserv. Soc., Budapest, Koltó u. 21, H-1121, Hungary; phone & fax: +36 1175 8327; e-mail: tuzok@mme.zpok.hu.—Publishes articles, notes and letters on Hungarian birds and on all aspects of ornithology. Papers published in Hungarian or English.—T.S.

A Guide to the Birds of the Galápagos Islands

Isabel Castro and Antonia Phillips

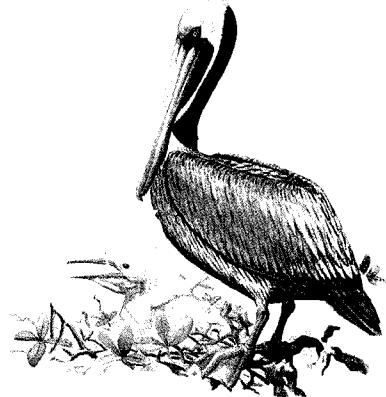

The Galápagos Islands contain an extraordinary wildlife that attracts thousands of visitors every month. Those who wish to concentrate on the birdlife now have A Guide to the Birds of the Galápagos Islands. This field guide presents every species to have been recorded within the archipelago, including accidentals and vagrants. Twenty-eight color plates illustrate the species, while four color plates show the key island habitats, with typical bird species depicted. Beautiful line drawings complement a concise, accessible, and informative text.

With this guide, all visitors, experts as well as beginners, will be able to identify and appreciate any species within the unique avifauna of the Galápagos Islands.

32 color plates, 32 line illustrations.

Cloth $24.95 ISBN 0-691-01225-3

Not available from Princeton in the Commonwealth (except Canada) and the EU

Where to Watch Birds in Asia

Nigel Wheatley

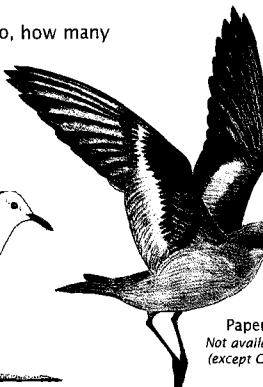

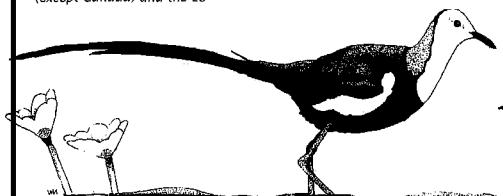

Bringing together for the first time all of the birding sites in Asia, this handy guide advises new and frequent visitors to the continent on where to go for the best birdwatching. From Turkey to Thailand and India to Indonesia, the book contains the latest birding information and deals with over 250 sites in detail and many more in passing. It directs the reader quickly to sites containing the birds they want to see and tells which countries support the best cross-sections.

Strategic information concerning when to go, how many sites to visit, how to get there, and how much time to spend is presented in a straightforward, easy-to-use format.

51 line illustrations, 101 maps.

Cloth $35.00 ISBN 0-691-01214-8

Seabirds of the World

A Photographic Guide
Peter Harrison

This pocket-sized guide, now back in print in the United States, is unprecedented in its concept of illustrating photographically the more than 321 species of seabirds in the world. It contains more than 740 seabird photographs by more than 300 of the world's leading seabird photographers and researchers. Included are pictures of some of the rarest and most enigmatic birds in the world. Of special value are the flight shots of some of the most difficult-to-identify groups of birds.

This is the most complete collection of seabird photographs ever published. It is complemented by a highly readable and succinct text intended to aid identification in the field.

Not available from Princeton in the Commonwealth (except Canada) and the EU

STUDIES IN NEOTROPICAL ORNITHOLOGY HONORING TED PARKER

Ornithological
Monographs #48

J. V. Remsen, Jr., Editor

This commemorative volume acknowledges the central contributions of the late Theodore A. Parker III to Neotropical ornithology. The volume contains 51 papers devoted to Neotropical birds. Twelve papers are co-authored by Parker, and two papers address Parker's life and influence on ornithology in the New World tropics. A full bibliography of his publications is included. Seven new species are described, including three new Scytalopus tapaculos, two tyrannids, and two antbirds. An additional 20 forms are raised to species status in revisions of species limits for several important groups. Many papers focus on distribution and biogeography, foraging ecology, and conservation, and are written by leading workers in Neotropical field ornithology. The volume is a must for anyone interested in the stunning avian diversity that characterizes the New World tropics. Several color illustrations are included in the volume.

Each copy is $49.95; the pre-publication price is $39.95 (pre-publication price extended to 1 September 1997). Please include $4.00 (U.S.) or $7.00 (foreign) per copy for shipping and handling. Make checks in U.S. funds payable to "American Ornithologists' Union" and send to:

Instructions to Contributors

The Auk publishes original reports on the biology of birds. Appropriate topics include documentation, analysis, and interpretation of laboratory and field studies, theoretical or methodological developments, and reviews of information or ideas. Authors are encouraged to write papers from the perspective of general concepts and theories, and to consider the relevance of their findings to taxa in addition to birds. The Auk strives to publish a color frontispiece with each lead article; authors are encouraged to submit suitable color illustrations. Contributions are welcome from throughout the world but must be written in English. Submit five copies of each manuscript complete with tables, figure legends, and figures (retain original figures until notified) to the Editor. Include a copy of the manuscript on a 3.5-inch diskette (WordPerfect preferred, but identify the software). Double-space all written material (including tables and figure legends) on standard-sized stationery. Number pages through the figure legends. Submit tables separately from the text; type figure legends consecutively on a separate sheet. Manuscripts should conform to general usage in the most recent issue of the journal. The title page should contain: (1) full title; (2) authors' names and addresses; (3) left and right running heads (<36 characters each); and (4) name, mailing address, and e-mail address of author to whom correspondence should be sent. Detailed instructions to contributors are available in Auk 113(3):731–733; copies may be obtained from the Editor. Paying close attention to these instructions will hasten the processing of your manuscript and gratify the editorial staff.
