BIRD-LORE

A BI-MONTHLY MAGAZINE FOR BIRD-LOVERS
EDITED BY FRANK M. CHAPMAN

Official Organ of the Audubon Societies

Audubon Department

Edited by Mabel Osgood Wright and William Dutcher

Bird Lore's Motto: "A Bird in the Bush is Worth Two in the Hand"

If you are interested in birds, you will be interested in BIRD-LORE. Each number contains two or more colored plates, accurately figuring the male and female of several species of birds, together with numerous photographs of birds from life. The general articles and notes from field and study are interesting, stimulating and helpful; the book reviews, editorials, and Audubon Department informing, and, in short, the magazine is indispensable to every one who would keep abreast of present-day labors in the field of bird study and bird protection.

Each number of BIRD-LORE contains a four-page teachers' leaflet, illustrated with a colored plate. All teachers subscribing to BIRD-LORE will receive, free of charge, two extra copies of each of these leaflets, two colored plates, and six facsimile outlines for coloring, for use in their classes.

$1.00 a year; 20c a Copy

Reduced facsimile of the reproduction of Ernest Thompson Seton's drawing of the Bob-white. Presented to every subscriber to Vol. VIII, 1906, of Bird-Lore. The original, printed on heavy plate paper, suitable for framing, is nearly life-size.
