PREPARATION OF MANUSCRIPTS FOR THE CONDOR

Articles published in the Condor normally are written by members of the Cooper Ornithological Club. Practically all the Club's money goes into the magazine; no editor and no business manager receive any pay other than the satisfaction of doing a service worthily. The preparation of good copy by the author will contribute greatly to accuracy of published output, dispatch in handling, and economy of production.

To be acceptable for inclusion in the Condor, articles must not duplicate in any substantial way material that is published elsewhere. Any type of subject bearing on birds may be considered; but the geographic areas of primary concern are western North America, Central America, and the Pacific Basin. Manuscripts may be sent to the editors at the Museum of Vertebrate Zoology. Proofs with edited manuscripts will be sent to authors, at which time reprints may be ordered.

In the interests of accuracy and economy, observe the following: do not duplicate data in text, tables, or charts; check citations to original sources and verify text references; quoted statements must be exact replicas of the original; preferably use vernacular names applicable to the entire avian species (for a guide in this regard, see "The Distribution of the Birds of California," Pac. Coast Avif. No. 27, 1944:5-34); in general, avoid subspecific vernaculars; insert scientific names for species but not the subspecific name except in taxonomic papers or where the race concerned has been critically determined by the author or his collaborators; revise the manuscript repeatedly to remove superfluous words and phrases, immaterial detail, and repetitious statements.

Note Condor style and usage. "General Articles" and the "Field and Study" items are set up in different form. Provide a concise, meaningful title, and, where needed, subtitles within the text. Footnotes are not used. The address line may serve to indicate institutional connection, and to it should be added the date of transmittal of the manuscript. Terminal bibliographies are desirable where five or more titles are to be cited; otherwise, the references may be included in the text. For bibliographic style, note closely the practices employed in recent volumes of the journal. A factual summary is recommended for longer papers.

Rules for copy.—(1) Typewrite material, using one side of paper only; (2) double space all material and leave liberal margins; (3) use $8\frac{1}{2} \times 11$ inch paper of standard weight (avoid onion skin); (4) carbon copies are not acceptable; (5) place tables on separate pages; (6) number pages in upper right hand corner.

Illustrations.—Photographs should be glossy prints of good contrast. Make line drawings with India ink; plan linework and lettering for at least $\frac{1}{2}$ reduction; do not use typewritten labels on the face of the drawing. Provide typed legends on separate sheets.

Helpful references on writing: Manual of Style, University of Chicago Press, and Rules of the Editorial Committee, University of California Press. On scientific nomenclature: A.O.U. Check-list (with supplements 19 through 25) and Pacific Coast Avifauna No. 27; authors are not required to follow either of these works.
