

4) In the forests of Trinidad and Tobago, Dr. Robert Dalgeish, entomologist and director of the E. N. Huyck Preserve in New York, is analyzing the relationship between birds and their ectoparasites. Participants will identify netted birds and dust them to remove the parasites for further examination.

Team I: March 2–15, 1980, Trinidad; share of costs: $800

Team II: March 16–29, 1980, Tobago.

5) Dr. Gene Wilhelm (Slippery Rock State College) is helping a group of concerned citizens in Butler County, Pennsylvania, conduct a survey of the area's breeding birds. Volunteers will measure, map, and photograph the nesting sites and habitats of the more threatened birds—hawks, owls, and waterfowl.

Team I: May 4–17, 1980; share of costs: $500

Team II: May 18–31, 1980.

SYMPOSIUM ON WOODLAND GROUSE

The second symposium on woodland grouse will be held at Dalhousie Castle, Edinburgh, Scotland from March 23rd–27th 1981. It will broadly follow the same format as the 1978 Symposium (p. 347) but with emphasis on population dynamics. Further details will be published by the World Pheasant Association.

1982 ORNITHOLOGICAL CONGRESS

The XVIII International Ornithological Congress will take place in Moscow, USSR on 16–25 August 1982. Professor Lars von Haartman (Finland) is President and Professor Valery Ilyichev (USSR) is Secretary-General. The program is being planned by an international Scientific Program Committee chaired by Professor J. Aschoff (Germany). Current plans are to have a plenary lecture each morning followed by symposia; hopefully, only three symposia will run concurrently at any time. One mid-congress day will be free. Post-congress excursions are planned to many interesting ornithological localities, such as Baikal, Samarkand and Bukhara. If sufficient interest exists, a group flight will be arranged for North American ornithologists.

Inquiries about the congress and requests for application forms should be addressed to: Professor Valery Ilyichev, Secretary General, XVIII Congressus Internationalis Ornithologicus, Ringing Centre 117312, Moscow, Fersman Street 13, USSR.

Questions and suggestions (including for the program and flight plans) may be sent to: Dr. Walter Bock, Department of Biological Sciences, Columbia University, New York, N.Y. 10027.

JOB OPPORTUNITY

Hawk Mountain Sanctuary Association is seeking an executive director in order to expand its programs in conservation and raptor biology. Some management experience is preferred. ## Birds of the Great Plains

Breeding Species and Their Distribution

By Paul A. Johnsgard

Birds of the Great Plains is the first book to describe systematically all of the species of birds known to have bred or to breed at present in the Great Plains. Emphasizing breeding status, or abundance, and distribution, the book is intended to serve as a predictive guide to birds that are likely to breed in a given locality; to aid in the location and identification of nests; to provide a nucleus of information on the species ecology and behavior, particularly as it relates to breeding; and to furnish detailed information about the distribution of each species.

xlvi, 553 pages, 30 color plates, 53 line drawings, 316 distribution maps.

Special prepublication price $21.50 until 12/31/79; $25.00 thereafter
