INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

AMERICAN BIRDS welcomes the submission of articles and photographs for publication.

Our major areas of interest are the changing distribution, population, migration, and rare occurrence of the avifauna of North America, including Middle America and the West Indies. We solicit articles on problems in field identification, in our "Site Guide" series of birding locales, in our "Centers of Learning" series that profiles institutions concerned with ornithology.

ARTISTS AND PHOTOGRAPHERS—AMERICAN BIRDS is now able to publish more pages of illustrative material, both in color and black-and-white. We welcome submission of photographic essays or series of topical interest, high quality single photographs of significance, transparencies of paintings in color, as well as line or wash drawings that can be used in an illustrative or even decorative manner. We would like to hear from (with a sample or two) artists who might be willing to illustrate articles for us. As usual, documentary photographs will be used, when space permits, in our Changing Seasons and Regional Report sections.

For a "Work in Progress" column, we welcome notices of research projects seeking field reports or other collaboration; we publish advance notices of important conventions, meetings, symposia, seminars, and conferences or other ornithological news.

All submissions will be carefully considered, but authors considering major submissions should correspond with the editors first. AMERICAN BIRDS publishes papers of a technical nature but only when written in a less-than-technical, easily readable style: i.e., no complicated equations, lengthy tables, or complex graphs. Major articles should be limited to 3000 words; exceptions may be agreed upon after consultation. All material submitted should be original, and previously unpublished. Manuscripts should follow accepted rules of format and style, be typewritten, double-spaced, on white paper, with generous margins. Photographs should be glossy black-and-white or transparencies, clearly marked with author's name and address. We require the original typescript and one carbon copy. All manuscripts will be acknowledged, but authors must recognize that a backlog exists which may entail delayed publication after acceptance.

For further information address the editors at the American Birds offices, 950 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022.

MINSMERE

PORTRAIT OF A BIRD RESERVE

*Herbert Axell/Photographs by Eric Hosking
Foreword by HRH The Duke of Edinburgh KG*

The traditional British care and concern for nature is evident in the magnificence of the preserve at Minsmere where hundreds of species of birds live and breed safely. The excellence of Minsmere offers a full course of lessons to all those whose strong concern is the conservation of birdlife in America.

Although the book is addressed to professional ornithologists and well-informed amateurs, the brilliance of the photography and clarity of text will delight anyone who enjoys the marvel of nature.

SOMETHING NEW

Audible Audubon

An Invaluable Birding Aid

The Audible Audubon Collection combines on five-inch long cards color reproductions of paintings by Roger Tory Peterson and Allan Brooks, textual descriptions of birds and habitats by the Audubon staff, and recordings of bird sounds from the Cornell University Laboratory of Ornithology. The key to the collection is a unique Microphonograph which "plays" Microrecords permanently secured to the card backs. The collection is ideal for bird and bird-call recognition and will provide every birder with hours of study and enjoyment.

Quality Sound Reproduction without Bulky Tapes or Cassette Players

The easy-to-use Microphonograph is hand-sized and weighs less than one pound. It is battery operated and completely portable for use in home or field. Its diamond stylus rotates to play the stationary long-playing Microrecords. To operate, a bird card is inserted and the play button pushed. Audible Audubon is the perfect gift for beginning birders and old hands alike. Or yourself. Eighty one cards are available in three sets. The collection is warranted for one year.
