

Regional Reports Pictorial Highlights

Spring 1988

Part of a flock of Greater Golden-Plovers at Kilbride, Newfoundland, April 26, 1988. The species staged an unprecedented invasion this spring. Photo/Bruce Mactavish.

The species is rarely found away from the immediate coast and this Seaside Sparrow provided a first record for the District of Columbia on May 7, 1988. Photo/Dave Czaplak.

Sandhill Crane at Upperville, Virginia, late May 1988. About the 11th or 12th record for Virginia. Photo/Sandy Cole.

Magnificent Frigatebird with nestling on Long Key, Dry Tortugas, April 29, 1988. The species nested at the Tortugas for the first time this year. Photo/Greg Lasley.

Male Shiny Cowbird at Ft. Jefferson, Dry Tortugas, April 26, 1988. Photo/Serge Lafrance.

Cattle Egret attempting to swallow a Barn Swallow on the Dry Tortugas, Florida, May 1, 1988. Photo/Greg Lasley.

Center of controversy: this green-backed male Selasphorus (photographed February 28, 1988, at Cedar Key, Florida) may have been an Allen's Hummingbird, but positive field identification is almost impossible. Photo/Bill Pranty.

Curlew Sandpiper at Stoney Point, Ontario, May 14, 1988. Photo/Tim Sabo.

Marbled Godwit at Huntington, West Virginia, April 21, 1988. Photo/Wendell L. Argabrite.

Juvenile Northern Saw-whet Owl in Claiborne County, Tennessee, May 11, 1988. Photo/J.B. Owen.

Female Ruff near Joliet, Illinois, April 29, 1988. First record for Will County. Photo/Joe B. Milosevich.

Cave Swallow in St. Tammany Parish, Louisiana, May 8, 1988. Photo/R.D. Purrington.

Adult Purple Gallinule at Columbus, Ohio, May 19, 1988. Photo/Mary Gustafson.

Spotted Redshank at Lake Perry, Jefferson County, Kansas, May 1988. First record for the state and Region. Photo/Steve Crawford.

Purple Sandpiper (with Ruddy Turnstone) at Gulfport, Mississippi, April 11, 1988. Second documented Mississippi record. Photo/Judith Toups.

Masked Duck near Rio Hondo, Texas, April 22, 1988. Photo/R.A. Behrstock.

Spotted Owl nesting in the "Cliff Palace" ruin at Mesa Verde National Park, Colorado, August 1987. Photo/Cliff Hence.

Male Hooded Oriole at Bend, Oregon, April 17, 1988. Photo/Tom Crabtree.

Male Garganey at Buenos Aires National Wildlife Refuge, Arizona, April 10, 1988. First Arizona record. Photo/Robert A Witzeman.

Elegant Tern at Painted Rock Dam, Arizona, May 30, 1988. First definite Arizona record, and one of very few inland records ever for the species. Photo/David Stejskal.

Hepatic-morph female Common Cuckoo at Attu Island, Alaska, June 9, 1988. Photo/Shawneen Finnegan.

Gray-tailed Tattler (the paler bird) with Wandering Tattler at James Campbell National Wildlife Refuge, Hawaii, April 19, 1988. First record of Gray-tailed for the main Hawaiian Islands. Photo/Peter Donaldson (HRBP #773).

Rough-legged Hawk being mobbed by Sooty Terns at Laysan Island, Hawaii, March 4, 1988. First record in Hawaii for any Buteo other than the endemic 'Io (Hawaiian Hawk). Photo/Brenda Becker (HRBP #762).

Corrigendum

Please switch the captions beneath the Anna's and Xantus' hummingbirds in our last Pictorial Highlights (American Birds Vol. 42, No. 2, page 193). We apologize to Max Parker and Virgil Ketner.