he fall season was noteworthy for the number of western vagrants that appeared in the Region, especially in Tennessee. Three species-Mottled Duck. Sage Thrasher, and MacGillivray's Warblerfurnished first records for Tennessee (and the Region), pending acceptance by the Tennessee Bird Records Committee. Observers noted the passerine migration as excellent, both in terms of numbers and diversity. Warmer-than-average temperatures in early November were likely responsible for the record-late dates for several species. It was heartening that a much smaller number of birds with West Nile Virus symptoms came in to rehabilitators this summer and fall than in 2002, suggesting that the long-term impact of this disease on bird populations may not be significant.

LOONS THROUGH SPOONBILL

Only 2 Red-throated Loons were reported, one at Barren 7 Nov (vt. DR) and one in Henry, TN 22–23 Nov (†JRW, PC, FF). The fall Common Loon flight peaked with 1342—a new high count for Kentucky—at Barren 7 Nov (DR) and at ca. 400 in Henry, TN 15 Nov (JRW).

Two Horned Grebes at S. Holston L., TN 27 Sep (WC, RC) furnished a record-early date for upper e. Tennessee. A Red-necked Grebe was also present there 9 Nov (†RK et al.), and another was at Britton Ford 16–23 Nov (ph. JRW, ph. MT et al.). Single Eared Grebes were observed on the Ohio R. at Louisville 20 Sep (†BP et al.) and in Henry, TN 8 Nov (ph. JRW, DD). On 7 Sep Eared Grebes returned to S. Holston L., TN for the 10th consecutive year (ET, RC), with the high count there 7 in late Oct (RK, WC). Two Western Grebes (extremely rare in the Region) were at Britton Ford 16–18 Nov (†JRW et al.).

American White Pelicans continue to increase in numbers, punctuated by a remarkable flight of 2033 through Shelby, TN 18 Oct (JRW). A female Anhinga soaring over Ensley 4 Oct was very late (JRW, GK). The only reports of American Bittern were one at Shelby Farms, Shelby, TN 6 Sep (VR), one to 2 at Sauerheber 27 Sep—18 Oct (m. ob.), and one at Brainerd Levee, Hamilton, TN 27 Oct (KC). Least Bittern was documented nesting in Union, KY in early Aug (BP); one at Yatesville W.M.A., Lawrence 9 Sep (RM, fide SF) was a first for far e. Kentucky, and a bird at Sauerheber 18 Oct (DR et al.) established a new late departure date for Kentucky. A Great White Heron, a vagrant to the Region, was found at Center Hill L., TN 19 Oct (†SJS, CW, DW), not far from where one was present during fall of the previous year. The lone reported Tricolored Heron was an imm. at White Lake Refuge, Dyer, TN 31 Aug–1 Sep (KL et al.).

One first-basic Glossy Ibis and 2 juv. Plegadis ibis (considered probable Glossy) were present at a pond in s. Warren, KY 12 Oct (vt. DR). Only 2 White Ibis were reported, an imm. in Bristol, TN 5 Aug (RC, WC) and one at the Duck River Unit of Tennessee N.W.R. 23 Aug (†JSD). Wood Storks were reported in Shelby and Tipton, TN 23 Aug—20 Sep, with a high of 87 at Ensley 15 Sep (JRW). An imm. Roseate Spoonbill in Maury, TN 19 Aug—8 Sep (DS, ph. MO, m. ob.) provided one of only a handful of records for middle Tennessee.

WATERFOWL

Two Greater White-fronted Geese migrating over Bell, KY 13 Nov provided a first record for se. Kentucky (MM, MV, BP); likewise, 24 in Clay, TN 15 Nov furnished a first county record there (SJS et al.), while 4 in Greene, TN were rare for the area (DH). Some 1000 had returned to the Long Point Unit of

DR) established a new early arrival date for Kentucky, while one in Boone, KY 26-27 Nov (ph. GC, LM) represented a first for the n.-cen. part of the state. Six ad. Ross's Geese in Roane 15 Nov (JRW, MG) were noteworthy for e. Tennessee. The first of Sauerheber's wintering flock of Tundra Swans were observed 25 Nov (MMn). A Mottled Duck at Ensley 4–7 Oct (ph. JRW, m. ob.) furnished a Regional first. A hybrid Blue-winged x Cinnamon Teal was observed in w. Fulton, KY 30 Aug (MM, BP).

This fall's scoter movement was modest compared to that of 2002. Surfs were reported from four Kentucky and three Tennessee locations 21 Oct–23 Nov, with a high of 15 on the Ohio R. at Louisville 21 Oct (MA). There were only two reports of White-winged Scoter: one at S. Holston L., TN 2 & 8 Nov (WC et al.) and 2 at Britton Ford 16–18 Nov (†JRW et al.). Reports of Black Scoter included 3–5 on the Ohio R. at Louisville 7 Nov (MA, MS, BY), one on L. Cumberland, Pulaski, KY 9 Nov (RD), and one at Paris Landing S.P., Henry, TN 16 Nov (†JRW).

RAPTORS THROUGH CRANES

One of the highlights of the season in Kentucky was a Swallow-tailed Kite at Sinclair 12–31 Aug (ph. SA et al.). Single Mississippi

Kites—rare in Tennessee anywhere e. of the Mississippi R. floodplain—were noted at the Soddy Mt. hawkwatch, Hamilton, TN 20 & 23 Sep (BH), new for that location. A dark-morph ad. Red-tailed Hawk of the w. race calurus near Morganfield, Union, KY 5 Oct (JD, BP, AC) was relatively early. Quite impressive was the sight of 5 Golden Eagles (2 ads., 3 subads.) in one field

gle Mississippi | al.) were unu of view over Bernheim Forest, Nelson, KY 30 Nov (MM, BP); another soared past the Soddy Mt. hawkwatch 8 Nov (BH). It was another good fall for Merlins, with 12 reports of one to 2 birds in Kentucky and three reports of single birds in Tennessee 10 Sep-22 Nov.

Single King Rails were observed at Sauerheber 4 (BP et al.) & 18 Oct (JP) and at Standifer Gap Marsh, Hamilton, TN 2 & 27 Oct (KC, CB). A juv. Virginia Rail in Union, KY 1 Aug (LP, EC, BP) appeared to be less than fullgrown and may represent a first nesting record for Kentucky. A Sora was still in Muhlenberg, KY 9 Nov (BP et al.). Common Moorhen was confirmed nesting at Sauerheber in early Aug (CC).

Sandhill Cranes were seen a few weeks earlier than normal, with a flock of 36 over Calloway, KY 10 Oct (KCo) and ca. 30 over s. Jefferson, KY 12 Oct (MB).

SHOREBIRDS THROUGH GULLS

It was not a great season for shorebirds, as high lake and river levels inundated some of the best habitat. There were four reports of Piping Plover from Tennessee: one to 2 at Island 13 on the Mississippi R., Lake 2–5 Aug (NM, KL), one there 1 Sep (†JRW), and one at Rankin Bottoms, Cocke 1 Sep (†RK et al.).

One to 4 American Avocets were reported from two Kentucky and two Tennessee sites 3 Aug-13 Oct; an additional 2 at S. Holston L., TN 12 Nov (BG et al.) were unusually late. One to 4 Willets were reported from only two Kentucky and two Tennessee sites 9 Aug-13 Sep. A Hudsonian Godwit in Calloway, KY 19 Sep (†HC) will represent a 4th state record if accepted by the Kentucky records committee. The lone reported Marbled Godwit (always rare in the Region) was relatively early in Union, KY 1 Aug (ph. BP, EC, LP). The only Red Knots reported, 3 at Mud 1.,

Shelby, TN 18 Oct (JRW), were late.

A White-rumped Sandpiper, a rare fall migrant in the Region, was in Rowan, KY 20 Sep (SM). Buff-breasted Sandpiper numbers were low; 2 at Rankin Bottoms, Cocke, TN 5-14 Sep (RK et al.) were unusual away from w. Tennessee. Single juv. Red-necked Phalaropes were present 14 Sep in Union, KY (†BP) and at Ensley (JRW). Single juv. Red Phalaropes were present in Marshall, KY 13-17 Sep (ph. HC et al.) and at Britton Ford 1-10 Nov (KA, ph. JRW, m. ob.). Unusually late shorebirds included a Buff-breasted Sandpiper in Union, KY 1 Oct (BP, JD, MM), a Semipalmated Plover in w. Fulton, KY 26 Oct (RD, SD), a Sanderling at Douglas L., TN 7 Nov (†RK), 2 Western Sandpipers at Ensley 8 Nov (JRW), and 4 Western Sandpipers in Marshall, KY to 16 Nov (HC).

Single Laughing Gulls of various ages were reported on 10 occasions on L. Barkley, KY and on Kentucky L. from the dam s. to Pace Pt., Henry, TN 2 Aug–29 Nov; in addition, 2 were observed in Lake, TN 2 Nov (JRW), and a group of 9 on S. Holston L. 27 Sep (WC, RC) represented not only a high

This Mottled Duck, discovered 4 October 2003 (here) by Jeff Wilson in the Ensley Bottoms in the southwestern corner of Memphis, furnished an expected first record for Tennessee. count for upper e. Tennessee but one of the highest ever for the Region. One to 15 Franklin's Gulls were observed on L. Barkley, KY and Kentucky L. from the dam s. to Britton Ford 15 Sep—22 Nov; one in Harlan 23 Sep (MM, BP) was the 2nd for se. Kentucky. A flock of ca. 70 at Britton Ford 1 Nov (MT, DMa) was noteworthy—but nothing could compare to the staggering total of 3145 Franklin's Gulls counted along the Mississippi R., Lake, TN the following day (JRW, NM); this event obliterated the Region's previous high count of 100 observed on the Ohio R. at Louisville on the same date, 2 Nov. in 1960!

ous ages were reported on nine occasions 15 Sep–26 Nov. Sabine's Gulls provided a highlight at both ends of Tennessee; a juv. was on S. Holston L. 7 Sep (RC, SC, ph. ET, m. ob.), and 2 juvs. were at Island 13, Lake 10 Sep (ph. MT, NM).

DOVES THROUGH HUMMINGBIRDS

As numbers continued to increase at existing locations, Eurasian Collared-Doves were reported from a handful of new locations during the season. A relatively late nesting Yellow-billed Cuckoo was flushed from a nest in Pulaski, KY 2 Aug (RD). The only Long-eared Owls reported were 2 in Muhlenberg, KY 28 Nov (BP, AC). Efforts to document Northern Saw-whet Owl in the Region continued to bear fruit. The earliest was one netted in e. Jefferson, KY 7 Nov (MM, BP), but in e. Tennessee, a remarkable 18 were banded in Blount 14–30 Nov+ (JG et al.). A very late Whip-poor-will was at Short Creek, Grayson, KY 15 Oct (JPt).

It was another banner fall for unusual hummingbirds, with no fewer than 30 individual birds present in Nov. Most that were identified were the expected Rufous Hummingbird. The highlight was a banded ad. male Calliope Hummingbird, Tennessee's and the Region's 4th, in Blount 28 Oct–5 Nov (JAM, ph. HH, m. ob.); the bird eluded several attempts to capture it. A detailed sum-bird in Memphis, TN 30 Oct (†1RW).

A Bell's Vireo at Shiloh N.P., Hardin, TN 16 Sep (†BS) was an unusual find; an extraordinarily late individual was heard singing at Sinclair 19 Oct (HC, RD). Also late was a singing Blue-headed Vireo in Hamilton, TN 21 Nov (KC). A very late nesting record for Red-eyed Vireo was established by an ad. feeding 2 voung in Pulaski, KY 10-11 Sep (RD). First indications of modest Red-breasted Nuthatch movement were singles in Hamilton, TN 6 Sep (DA) and in e. Putnam, TN 20 Sep (BS); by the end of the period, small numbers of birds were fairly well distributed across the Region.

Nesting Sedge Wrens were documented in Muhlenberg, KY (MM, BP), Henderson, KY (BP), and Montgomery, TN

(DM), the latter representing the first confirmed record for Tennessee. There are no nest records for Marsh Wrens in the Region, but single birds in Union, KY 17 & 23 Aug (BP) and Muhlenberg, KY 30 Aug (BP, MM) seemed to be potentially of local origin. A Sage Thrasher in Knox, TN 8–30 Nov+(SH, ph. RHo, m. ob.) furnished an unexpected first record for the Region.

This photograph shows but a small sample of the staggering flight of 3145 Franklin's Gulls observed by Jeff Wilson along the Mississippi River in Lake County, Tennessee on 2 November 2003. The highest previous count in the Region was of 100 in Louisville, Kentucky—on the same date in 1960. Photograph by Jeff R. Wilson.

mary of the Region's winter hummingbirds will appear in the winter season report.

FLYCATCHERS THROUGH THRASHERS

An Olive-sided Flycatcher at Shelby Park, Nashville, TN 15 Aug (PC, FF) established a new early date for the area; conversely, one in Unicoi, TN 5 Oct (JM) was unusually late. Two extremely late nesting records of Eastern Wood-Pewee were documented this season: an ad. feeding 2 young birds in Pulaski, KY 25 Sep (RD) and ads. feeding young in e. Jefferson, KY 24–30 Sep (BW). A Great Crested Flycatcher in Millington, Shelby, TN 6 Oct (VH) was late, as was a Western King-

WARBLERS THROUGH FINCHES

It was a good season for warbler fallouts; observers noted good numbers of Goldenwingeds, Blackpolls, and Cape Mays (the latter two usually present in numbers only in the e. mts.), as well as an unusual showing of Ceruleans in e. Tennessee. One of the highlights of the season was the presence of a the Region's first MacGillivray's Warbler at Radnor 25 Oct–19 Nov (vt. JS, m. ob.). Single Connecticut Warblers, rare in the Region in fall, were reported in Davidson, TN 19 Sep (ShM) and at Roan Mt., Carter, TN 25 Sep (RK). Unusually early warblers included a Black-throated Green in Warren, KY 10 Aug (JE), a Chestnut-sided in Pulaski, KY 19 Aug (RD), a Palm in Lake, TN 24 Aug (KL), and single Orange-crowneds at Shelby Bottoms, Davidson, TN 2 Sep (SHy) and in Bar-

Red Phalarope is the rarest of its tribe in Tennessee, and migrants rarely stay for more than a day or two. ren, KY 5 Sep (MM). Probably due at least in part to mild late-fall temperatures, there were numerous late records of warblers, including a Mourning at Radnor 31 Oct (SHy), an Ovenbird at Radnor 1 Nov (JS) and another in Hamilton, TN 2 Nov (LW), a Black-and-white at Radnor 2 Nov (CWk), a Northern Waterthrush in e. Jefferson, KY 4 Nov (JB, PB), and a Hooded in Boyd, KY 3 Nov (LT). A female Black-throated Blue Warbler found dead in Memphis, TN 4 Nov (ph. MJ) was not only exceptionally late but a rare find for w. Tennessee, while one in Marshall 13 Sep (HC, EC, RL, MW) likely represents a first fall record for w. Kentucky.

There were three reports of Clay-colored Sparrow, which remains a poorly known and/or very rare migrant in the Region: one in e. Jefferson, KY on the early date of 24 Aug (†]B, PB), one in Blount, TN 10 Oct (†DT), Sabine's Gulls are extremely rare in Tennessee, so sightings of singles at both ends of the state were remarkable. This juvenile was a one-day wonder at South Holston Reservoir on the Tennessee-Virginia border 7 September 2003.

This banded adult male Calliope Hummingbird, Tennessee's fourth overall, showed up at the home of Jo Ann McMillen in Maryville, Tennessee on 28 October 2003 (here 30 October). and one in Pulaski, KY 10 Nov (†RD); all are subject to records committee review. An unusually high number of reports of migrant Lark Sparrows included one at Sinclair 30 Aug (MM, BP), one in Pulaski, KY 9–10 Sep (RD), one at Shelby Bottoms, Davidson, TN 16 Sep (MS), 2 at Ensley 20–21 Sep (JRW et al.), and one very late bird (and unusual any time of year for e. Tennessee) in Washington, TN 25 Nov (DE).

Lingering Henslow's Sparrows remained at Sinclair well into fall, with a juy. (not fully grown) and a nearby ad, with food observed 21 Sep (BP, MS, BY) and at least 2 still there 9 Nov (MM et al.). Presumed migrant Henslow's were observed in Blount, TN 25 Oct (DT) and at the Big Sandy Unit of Tennessee N.W.R. 31 Oct (MT). Le Conte's Sparrows were present at a few usual haunts in the Region, but they were also noticeably absent from others due to habitat conversion. Four Nelson's Sharptailed Sparrows were reported: one in Knox, TN 28 Sep (CN et al.), 2 at Eagle Lake W.M.A., Shelby, TN 18 Oct (JRW), and one at Sinclair 19 Oct (HC, RD). A Snow Bunting, casual in Tennessee, was in Scott, TN 29 Nov (†NeM, SJS).

For the 3rd year in a row, at least one Yellow-headed Blackbird was detected in a blackbird roost in Union, KY 27 Sep–29 Oct (BP et al.); another was at Shelby Farms, Shelby, TN 23 Sep (G&JP). A very tardy Orchard Oriole was observed in Lyon, KY 21 Sep (MS, BY, BP). A few Purple Finches and Pine Siskins began showing up in early Nov, but by the end of the period, only small numbers were still being reported. The only report of an Evening Grosbeak was of one heard in Warren, KY 8 Oct (DR).
