

PUBLISHER'S NOTES.

Back numbers.—It would assist us greatly and save a deal of trouble if those ordering back numbers of the SEMI-ANNUAL, would not write for copies of the best edition of Jan. '89 and Jan. '90. We cannot furnish these two numbers in the best edition as our stock is completely exhausted; but we still have them in the popular edition at the regular price of 25c. per copy.

Our advertisers.—They are reliable. Of the old ones it is not necessary to speak as you have probably all had dealings with them and found them not wanting. It is of the new ones we wish to speak. We have had many of Mr. Babbitt's specimens and have always found them strictly first-class and true to name. You should at least send in your name for his monthly price-list as you will certainly not lose by so doing.

Of the Acme Folding Boat we cannot speak too highly. We have had one of their 12 ft. boats some time and consider it the best folding canvas boat on the market. For compactness, lightness and durability it has no equal. It is also very speedy and has a fine model.

Proposed new works.—Mr. J. W. Jacobs informs us that the "Owl" will be completely changed on its reappearance Jan. 1, 1890. He proposes to make it a 12 page monthly with cover, size of page 10x7 1-2 in. It will be printed on good, heavy paper and the subscription price 75 cents a year.

Mr. I. C. Greene's new "Book of Datas" will be heartily welcomed by all ornithological and oological collectors. It will be produced in the finest possible manner on linen paper, and neatly bound in leather. We are in receipt of sample pages of the datas and they are models of neatness and convenience.
