

value there is yet to be done in this branch of Ornithology, and that, too, in the very field in which our chapter is working. How many new facts shall we find out and place on record this year?

Important.

The series of Bulletins to be issued is intended to keep members informed of the doings of the Chapter. Members are scarcely to be blamed if they lose interest in a society that they hear from only semi-occasionally.

This year we hope it will be otherwise; but how can we publish the news if you do not send it to us? The President and Secretary will always be glad to hear from members. When you take a rare set of eggs, or identify a new bird, or when you learn any fact in Ornithology, let us know about it.

Binghamton, N. Y., May, 1894.