

to which he may turn to quickly determine whether any given region is covered by a faunal list. If any one knows of such published lists in obscure papers or magazines the editor would greatly appreciate a note to that effect.

The editor spent a delightful week, terminating on the last day of August, at Shawnee-on-Delaware, where Mr. C. C. Worthington has established a Bird Farm under the direction of Prof. W. E. D. Scott. The place is unrivaled for the study of birds and of forestry. We are pained to have to announce that the ill health of Prof. Scott has made it necessary for him to retire to northern New York for a season.

In the last Bulletin a plea was made for summer studies of the birds. The Bulletin for December will be largely devoted to reports of the summer work if you who read this will see that the material you have secured reaches the editor before the middle of November. Remember that summer studies are few and that there is room for a great deal that is interesting and valuable. A single note upon a single species is not too small and insignificant for permanent record. Do not fail to send in what you have.
