The Bird Banding Associations attempt, so far as may be possible, to supply information to those who may be interested to engage in this interesting game, and to furnish lectures to Audubon Societies, Nature Clubs or other organizations wishing to learn of this subject; and to furnish matter and illustrations for publication in magazines and newspapers. For this service apply to the Secretary of the Association which covers your region.

The Bird Banding Associations are doing a vast work in awakening interest in the study and protection of birds, and should have the active moral and financial support of every person who is interested in birds, whether such person intends to do banding or not. Persons who cannot do banding, will find it interesting to become Active or Sustaining Members of an Association in order to keep in touch with this interesting sport, the sport which is also a Science.

BIRD COLONIES OF THE GREAT LAKES

Every reader of the Wilson Bulletin can find some way to help the Inland Bird Banding Association in its efforts to have the bird colonies of the Great Lakes systematically worked for banding during the coming year. If you know of sites that have been used in the past as breeding places that you think are likely to be used during the coming year, we will appreciate it very much if you would send us such information. We hope in this way to have an authentic list ready by the nesting season of next year. In the meantime we wish to solicit volunteers who are willing to use their vacations in going to some of these colonies to place bands. We hope to have the Great Lakes covered more thoroughly through coöperation than if worked by individuals. If you know of anybody who is willing to volunteer information or services, please notify W. I. Lyon, 124 Washington Street, Waukegan, Illinois.
