

BOOKS: COMPLETE LIST 2

Following the complete list of books owned by the Wilson Ornithological Club Library that was published in The Wilson Bulletin for September 1943, a list of the year's accessions has been published in each September issue. However, the earlier lists are not available to many members and, in any case, it is inconvenient to consult nine separate listings. Consequently, the Library Committee, under the chairmanship of George J. Wallace, has prepared a complete list of the books on the Wilson Ornithological Club Library shelves.

We hope that Club members and friends will find this useful in their ornithological researches and also as a guide in their efforts to fill, with their generous donations, some of the more important gaps in the Library.

A representative collection of pamphlets, reprints, and ornithological periodicals are also available to Club members, but their complete listing is not practicable at this time. Visitors to the Library will find a few recordings of bird songs. However, the record player, lent to the Library some years ago by a Club member, cannot, by modern standards, be called a good one. We hope that it can soon be replaced, either by generous donations from Club members or by funds derived from the sale of duplicate items in the Library.

Inquiries about the facilities and needs of the Library and requests to borrow books may be addressed to: Wilson Ornithological Club Library, Museum of Zoology, Ann Arbor, Michigan. All members of the Club are privileged to borrow books. It has not been necessary so far to set a definite time-limit on loans, except for current periodicals, but members are asked to return books promptly when they have finished using them. Books and other loans are sent postpaid, but borrowers are expected to pay return transportation. The post-office book rate makes the cost negligible.
