

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

This issue of the Bulletin is much smaller than the past several issues, and indeed is much smaller than we would like it to be. The reason is simple. For sometime now the Society has been living beyond its income in so far as the Bulletin is concerned, and now the day of reckoning is at hand. We must retrench by publishing smaller issues until our financial position improves. The alternative is another healthy increase in dues, which we hope to avoid, at least for a while.

The financial position of the Society would be greatly improved if the membership were larger. The interest in birds among the general public has grown tremendously in the last decade, increase in membership in the Wilson Society has not increased proportionally. The Society has always stressed its interest in the serious amateur student of birds and surely there are still many who would enjoy and profit from a membership in the Society. Almost every member must know at least one such serious birder who would be a candidate for membership. If you desire to nominate persons for membership send the names and addresses to the Chairman of the Membership Committee, Dr. Robert C. Whitmore, Division of Forestry, West Virginia University, Morgantown, WV 26506. A modest goal for 1980 would be a one-third increase in membership.

George A. Hall, President
